

2018-2019 ARHU Faculty Grant Competition
(Formerly known as DRIF Call for Proposals)

The College of Arts and Humanities announces the 2018-2019 Faculty Grant Competition Call for Proposals. Tenure-track and professional track faculty are eligible to apply. ARHU offers conference grants, seed grants and subvention funding. Due to budget constraints, priority will be given to faculty from units that are not currently receiving operational funding from the Dean's office. Please see below for details. There is a fall and spring deadline for all applications: Friday, October 12, 2018, and Friday March 8, 2019.

Conference Grants: Grants of up to $2,000 will support the costs of hosting a conference that takes place on the University of Maryland campus between the time of application submission and June 2020. To be eligible for funding, conferences must target -- or at minimum, be accessible to -- an audience beyond the applicant's own department. For this year, ARHU encourages conference topics that relate to the theme of Immigration or Migration.

Seed Grants: Seed grants of up to $5,000 will be provided for a) piloting ideas that support the faculty's creative or scholarly professional success; or/and b) preliminary work necessary to enable an investigator or team of investigators to apply for external funding.

Subvention Funds: Funds will be awarded for costs required by a publisher that are assigned to the faculty member. Stay tuned for more information on the revised UMD policies for subvention, that will guide the ARHU process for subvention funding.

Division of Research Faculty Incentive Program (Tier Program): The UMD Division of Research Tier Grants program is currently undergoing changes by UMD. Stay tuned for announcements from the VPR's office.

For All Applications, Please Provide:

1. Abstract: Provide a 100-word (maximum) abstract that includes the title and purpose of the project, the intended audience (if conference), collaborators, and a summary timeline for implementation.

2. Project description: not to exceed three single-spaced pages, with one-inch margins and at least 11-point font. The description should clearly provide the objectives for the proposed project, methods or procedures, and the significance or expected impact on both the faculty member's professional development and the larger field of arts and/or humanities. A timeline should also be included, where you will clearly list when each task will be accomplished during the funding period.

3. Budget and Justification: Please provide a budget and justification for the planned expenditures. The budget and justification should demonstrate that you have thought through all aspects of your project and the costs associated with them. Budget categories will vary depending on the project. Please include any other sources of funding that will be supporting the project and whether those funds are committed or pending. If your proposal is for a seed grant leading to a subsequent external proposal, provide specifics about an external funding agency and any indication of the promise of funding from such sources.

Submission Process:

All application materials must be in one PDF file and must be submitted electronically, by 5 pm on the deadline date. The electronic submission form and instructions can be found at <http://apply.arhu.umd.edu>

Reporting Requirements:

At the minimum, it will be expected that awardees acknowledge ARHU in any reports and documents produced by the funding. Successful applicants will receive guidance in the award letter pertaining to additional reporting requirements that depend on the project.
